The boatswain at the Halifax River Yacht Club was busy Monday morning painting signs with which to mark the channels in the river between here and the lighthouse. The signs read: "H. R. Y. C."

Major and Mrs. R. H. Allison of New Decatur, Ala., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hulett, of North Ridgewood avenue. Major Allison is another enthusiast over Daytona, and says all kinds of nice things about the city. The Major and Mr. Hulett are cousins.

Mr. Edward Archibald of Ridgewood avenue, Kingston, celebrated St. Valentine's day by giving a dinner to twelve of his Daytona friends. The affair was interspersed at intervals by some very fine selections from his phonograph. All present spent a very pleasant day.

A horse belonging to C. Roy Miller, of Holly Hill, became frightened by an automobile on First avenue, Saturday evening about six o'clock, and pulling loose from his bridle started on a run for Beach street. He was soon freed from the wagon, which came in contact with a post. He turned north on Beach street and was stopped just around the corner in front of the Prince George. No damage resulted beyond the twisting of the shafts and some breakage to the harness.

Automobile tires and inner tubes vulcanized at Oliver's garage.

W. P. Devereux and Father A. McNulty, guests of the Ridgewood and friends of Asa Paine, accompanied the latter on a fishing trip up Spruce Creek last Friday aboard his fishing boat, the Battleship. The party saw a number of alligators, in addition to a good catch of sheephead, landed an eel four feet in length. Mr. Devereux's recent experience aboard the ill-fated steamship Republic has evidently not entirely discouraged him in regard to water travel, but it would appear that he now prefers a "Battleship" to an ocean liner and to have land within easy reach on either hand as against the best wireless outfit.

Japan Persimmon Trees for sale. F. M. Call.

R. J. Hulse and A. S. Halle, both of New York, are recent arrivals at The Prospect, on Ridgewood. Mr. and Mrs. John W. Robinson and three daughters are also guests at The Prospect. They are from Buffalo, N. Y., where Mr. Robinson is engaged in the wholesale lumber business.

W. F. Holmes, manager of the Daytona Truck and Fruit Growers' Association, has on display at Our Store some very fine celery grown at his Hammock Grove Celery Farm. The bunches are large and nicely blanched and Mr. Holmes claims that the celery has the same nutty flavor as the northern grown plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seifert, of New York, guests for the past three weeks of The Western, on First avenue, departed Tuesday morning for Miami, where they will meet their daughter and her husband, who will return with them to Daytona, stopping at Palm Beach and other points of interest on their way back to this city.

Those who enjoy the surprises of a Chalk-talk Entertainment will have the opportunity of spending a pleasant evening, Feb. 23d, at the Baptist church, entertained by the skillful cartoonist, Alton Packard. He varies his program with music and verse of his own composition. He is a man of talent. This is the third number of the Lecture Course.

The cruising yacht, Ernestine, returned Sunday from a six days' hunting and fishing trip down the river. The party, which consisted of the three Stubenbords, Conrad senior and junior, and James, Al-derman Lundy, E. M. Holman and Henry Strube, had a most enjoyable and successful trip. While at Titusville the Advocate gave the party a very pleasant and interesting write-up.

Rev. T. N. Boyle, L. L. D., superintendent of the Allegheny District, Pittsburgh Conference, who, with Mrs. Boyle, is a guest of Mrs. Sarah B. Cochran, at the Sebring residence, on South Ridgewood avenue, is also Grand Chaplain of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania, it will interest Masons here to know. Dr. Boyle delivered a sermon at the First M. E. Church last Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. P. Devereux, of Minneapolis, Minn., guests of The Ridgewood, who were passengers on the steamship Republic when she collided with the Florida, say that Daytona is good enough for them and within easy reach by rail. Mr. and Mrs. Devereux had started on a European tour, but their thrilling experience aboard the Republic caused them to change their plans.

Seabreeze and Daytona Beach.

MRS. H. A. BERNARD, Editor.

SEABREEZE, Feb. 18.—Miss M. E. Brown of Daytona, was visiting the Seabreeze High School and calling on friends on Valley street yesterday afternoon.

The improvements being made on R. C. Mansfield's cottage, on Valley street, are completed, including painting and cement front walk, and it is now a very attractive winter home. The lot contains a large number of fine orange and grapefruit trees, which are still hanging with the golden fruit altho' the blossoms of a new season are beginning to put forth. Mr. Mansfield's family consists of his wife and daughter, Mrs. Woodward, and her young son, and hereafter they expect to spend their winters regularly at Seabreeze. Mr. Mansfield is a prominent business man of Winchester, Ky.

M. L. Waggoner left Saturday for Evansville, Ind., and expects to be gone a week or ten days.

Lumber is on the ground for the erection of a bungalow for Mr. Uebelhoefer on the lot purchased by him near the Country Club house some weeks ago. It is understood that Mr. Uebelhoefer will build something quite artistic in the way of a permanent winter home.

Mrs. S. S. Jones has recently received a fine lot of citrus fruit trees from the Oklawaha nursery, among them the Ruby, Conner, and the Hart's Late, also a few peach trees. They were set on a flat of ground recently grubbed and cleared for the purpose west of the Seabreeze Sanitarium.

Work on John E. Garfield's bungalow on the corner of Earl and Grandview avenue is progressing. L. M. Drak has the work in charge.

William Babbington of St. Augustine visited his mother at Dr. E. E. Dayton's Sunday.

Carl Gillette, one of our ambitious young men, last summer bought a lot on Pinewood avenue, north, and this week lumber is on the ground and the frame work up for a two-story, six-room cottage. C. C. Gillette will have charge of the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Bianchi are looking forward to a visit to their son Frank Bianchi, of New York, some time during March.

SEABREEZE, Feb. 19.—Mrs. Wm. Leves and two sons, of Nashville, Tenn., are guests at The Glenwood.

The Clarendon orchestra, of which Harry A. Tucker is leader, expect to give a benefit concert at Wilman's opera house in the near future. It is quite likely they will remain here the rest of the season. They succeeded in saving their instruments from the fire but lost considerable music and clothing.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Bliss and young son, Donnell, arrived from Attleborough, Mass., Wednesday evening, and will spend the season with Mrs. G. Hesser, Mrs. Bliss' mother, on Valley street. Mrs. Bliss says a severe sleet storm was in progress when they left home. They were accompanied by Mrs. Miles Carter and daughter, who will spend the season at the Princess Islena.

C. J. Crowell and Wm. Koehler, of New York city, and Jas. Calder, Sr., and Jas. Calder, Jr., of New York, are registered at the Princess Islena.

Mrs. A. C. Cole, two children and mother, who have been at the Princess Islena, left yesterday for St. Augustine en route home.

Mrs. Follansbee and little daughter Eleanor, arrived from Chicago on a visit to S. M. McConnell, Mrs. Follansbee's mother, and will spend some time at Bywater cottage. The little daughter, although here but a short time, is already improving under our mild, invigorating climate.

PORT ORANGE

PORT ORANGE, Feb. 19.—Dr. Kester has had a very neat fence built in front of his home on the River shore.

Mr. Brelsford has begun work on his cottage on the lot he bought of Captain Fozzard.

A large party went up Spruce Creek, Tuesday, in the Jennie B. and Gamble's boat.

Mrs. A. J. Hoff was hostess of the pleasant card party Tuesday evening. Miss Du Bois was hostess at the Church Tea last Thursday assisted by Mrs. Du Bois and Mrs. Barlow.

Alfred McDonald, wife and baby, arrived, Saturday, from Oak Hill to visit Mr. and Mrs. Hardeman.

Miss Minnie Carrow spent two days in our village last week.

Richard Sparkman and Chauncy Vass spent Saturday and Sunday at their homes.

Dr. Funderburg and wife arrived Sunday, and have rooms at Mr. Reipnders.

The Jubilee Musicians from the colored Industrial School, Daytona, entertained at the Seaside Inn last evening.

The rush of the season is beginning to be realized by all the hotels on the peninsula, and business is quite brisk. The following arrivals were noted at the Seaside Inn yesterday: J. B. Hocker, Jr., Brooklyn, N. Y.; A. S. Smith, Evansville, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Pratt, Toronto, Canada; Mrs. F. E. Chapman, Michigan.

Mr. Walcott and bride arrived from St. Augustine yesterday and were pleasantly located at the White House.

Mrs. McNorton and friend came down from St. Augustine yesterday and will spend some time at the White House.

A story was in circulation this morning that a man had been killed on the beach last night—run over by an automobile. Run down to its ultimate it turned out to be a telegram received by a guest of the Daytona Beach hotel containing the sad intelligence that her husband had been killed by a wrecked train in Illinois.

DAYTONA BEACH, Feb. 19.—The M. E. Church Bazaar opened in the McCullough building, on Seabreeze avenue, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, and the members of the Ladies' Aid, under whose auspices it was held, had a very busy time, with results sufficiently encouraging for the generous outpour of energy and time invested, from first to last, in its success. At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon $75 had been taken in, and it was expected that the evening sales of light refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cakes, coffee, chocolate and ice cream, would swell this amount considerably. The brisk sale of fancy and useful articles had nearly depleted the large and attractive stock on hand at the opening, by sunset. The members of the Aid at the heads of the various booths and refreshment stands were as follows: Mesdames Finley, Barze and Branch, Vandevor, Burdick, Brooks, Miss Maud Hibbard made an excellent cashier. The service was fine, in which a bevy of young ladies took part. The room and various tables were attractively decorated, and all in all the ladies may well be proud of their success.

Mrs. T. J. Miller and daughter, Mrs. Frank Miller, arrived yesterday from Sanford, and through the agency of E. A. Branch, are pleasantly located in the Weaver cottage on the beach. They expect to spend the month here.

Mrs. C. L. Horn, who was called to the bedside of her mother at Chattahoochee, some two weeks ago, arrived home Wednesday evening. Her mother is better, but not sufficiently recovered to make the trip to Daytona Beach.
